REVIEW OF DOCUMENTS AT NARS AND WNRC SUTLAND

1. Some inconsistencies have been noted in our review of documents at NARS and WNRC.

2. Most of these inconsistencies occur in the review of our own documents found in other agencies' record groups. Reviewers are reminded that, with the exception that we do not stamp the review action on the document, CIA documents reviewed elsewhere are treated the same as those reviewed at our own facilities.

a. Stamping: Even though we place no stamps on the document itself, our review decision as noted on the NARS worksheet and the tab constitutes the final action. That action should, therefore, include downgrading and referral to other agencies as well as declassification.

(1) If the document may be declassified, the reviewer should stamp "declassify" on both the tab and the worksheet, and add his employee number and the date.

(2) If the document may not be declassified, the reviewer should write "hold at (appropriate classification)" followed by his employee number and date on the worksheet and tab.

(3) If the document must be reviewed by another agency because of derivative material, stamp the worksheet and tab as follows:

CIA HAS DETERMINED THAT THIS DOCUMENT MAY BE DECLASSIFIED
SUBJECT TO REVIEW BY STATE

AUTH: HR 70-2

Review DATE 5/1/79

b. Form 4023A: A data input form must be filled out for each CIA document reviewed, whether at our own facilities or elsewhere. To neglect this is to make our data base in the automated system incomplete. Refer to RRP 78-23 dated 2 May 1978 for instructions on completion of the form. All entries remain valid except for the reviewer number (notation C), which has been changed to the reviewer's employee number, and the new job number digraph for NARS or WNRC record groups -- NA instead of 99 (notation G).
